Sri Sri Sri Bhadresh Das Swamiji, Director, BAPS Swami Narayana Research Institute of Gujarat, who graced the occasion showered his propitious blessings on the audience with his sacred Inaugural Message. In his speech he maintained that SANSKRIT is the most ancient of all languages in the world. It is the mother of all Indian languages. Its mystic power is capable of inspiring the entire mankind through generations. The first call for the welfare of the human world as a whole could be heard only from the VEDAS the earliest monumental records of human wisdom produced in Sanskrit. His underscoring statement further went that the efforts of Rashtriya Sanskrit Vidyapeetha, Tirupati for the protection and propagation of Sanskrit and Sastras is praise worthy and surely because of this reason this Vidyapeetha can be considered as another NALANDA of modern times.

The Presidential Address

Prof. Hare Krishna Satapathy, Honorable Vice Chancellor of Rashtriya Sanskrit Vidyapeeth and the President of the Inaugural Session in his speech expressed his gratitude to the Swami Ji for his impressive inaugural address. The speech of the president proclaims that Sanskrit ever since its origin has a constant appeal to the mankind to unite together for the cause of universal brotherhood and world peace. Sanskrit literature never confined to any narrow boundaries. It always considers the entire world as a global village. He further emphasized on the need of striving hard by every Indian for the protection and propagation of Sanskrit the traditional language that has descended through generations since many millennia. In this context he gave an account of Vidyapeetha's committed aims and achievements.

Dr. Satyanarayana Acharya rendered Vote of Thanks in the Inaugural Session. Dr. Rani Sadasiva Murty was the Master of Ceremonies of the Inaugural function.
